

A RELENTLESS PURSUIT

Good mentors change lives. Being hungry, homeless with no money, no gas, and no food is a desperate place to be for a nineteen-year-old student.

That was my breaking point financially, and mentally to try something different.

This is how your helping hand can transform overwhelming uncertainty into hope and achieving success.

AUDIENCE

- Leaders and professionals looking to improve practices for student success despite challenges or setbacks.
- Leaders who want to remind their people that their work truly matters when a student feels 'less than' good enough.
- Teams who need to work together to achieve those bigger goals and be a part of the solution for success.

OUTCOMES

- Build trust and accountability within your team, or your students, to meet and overcome challenges with confidence
- Teach effective advocacy skills for students with challenges, differences, or disabilities that will serve them for a lifetime.
- Identify creative problem solving strategies for educators and students to accomplish goals.
